LDDLIGHT.com Expands Service Offerings

With the addition of Live Chat in our web store, engineers and buyers now have a 'fast lane' to the machine vision lighting support resources at LDDLIGHT.com! Wherever you are on our site, live help is only a click away. Need to know if a product is in stock, or if a larger or smaller size is available? Get answers fast by clicking on the 'Questions? Chat with us live!' button weekdays from 8:30 AM to 5 PM Eastern Time.

In addition to live chat, LDDLIGHT.com has launched new programs to help customers with 'proof of concept':

- Our new Application Services program invites application developers to send product samples in to LDDLIGHT's applications lab for a free lighting evaluation. We select the best lighting for your application, capture images of your samples and send you the high contrast files that provide the proof.
- Try it before you buy it provides loan of products for testing at your site, in your system or machine, and under your production conditions. For only the cost of shipping, you get to be the judge of how effective an LDDLIGHT.com product will be in your application.
- The Demo/Lab Lighting Products program offers a discount to customers who want to buy products for use in application demonstrations or research & development labs. These are new, fully warranted products for our customers use in any applications or business development activities short of product resale.

These expanded service offerings support an ever-growing product line at LDDLIGHT.com. We offer one of the broadest machine vision lighting and lighting accessory lines available. Check out the following LDDLIGHT.com product releases and view our product lines to see for yourself:
