

IMMEDIATE RELEASE

April 14, 2010, Milford, NH

New Machine Vision LED Arc Lights at LDDLIGHT.com

The new IDR-CT Series Arc Lights from LDDLIGHT.com are designed for applications requiring an open arch of illumination.

Unique within our Area Light Family, the IDR-CT's semi-circle shape delivers light that partially surrounds an object, providing illumination through a 180° arch. This lighting technique supports inspections on both cylindrical surfaces and on objects requiring illumination of more than 1 side. Like other Area Lights, the IDR-CT can easily be positioned to provide either bright field or dark field lighting.

Due to their open arch design, IDR-CT Arc Lights can be mounted in a fixed position while allowing objects to easily be conveyed through their open 180° arch.

Typical applications for the IDR-CT are found in canning and bottling (e.g. print inspection on aluminum cans, debris in screw top bottle threads), machine parts (e.g. pistons and cylinders) and cosmetics (e.g. print inspection on lipstick and mascara).

Available with an outer diameter of 200mm and inner diameter of 170mm, the IDR-CT is available with red, white, blue or green LEDs. Additional wavelengths or sizes may be custom ordered.
